About Me

Hi there, I'm Harrison. I'm a computer science graduate from Point Chevalier and I want to put my skills to good use helping the community. I grew up here and want to make technology more straightforward and less stressful for people who don't have a go-to tech person.

Services

If you've got a tech issue, I've got you covered. I fix slow computers, set up new phones and laptops, sort Wi-Fi and network connections, connect printers and TVs, and ensure cloud backups and email run reliably. I can secure your devices, remove malware and scams, and safely move photos and files between devices. I'll explain everything in plain language, leave clear notes, and I won't try to upsell you. I'm local, flexible with evenings/weekends, and can help in person or remotely.

Areas I Can Help With
